"Idaho Practice Treatises and Materials," lists treatises, looseleaf services, and other law-related practice material alphabetically by subject.

Annotations are derived directly from review of the materials themselves. Where materials were unavailable, annotations were based on printed descriptions of the resource provided by publishers through sales literature or through direct contact. Bracketed information indicates that I supplied the information. Self-explanatory titles were not provided with annotations.

Excluded from this bibliography are audio-visual works, and articles and chapters from larger works unless reprints are available for purchase. Older and out-of-print titles are included only where they remain the best source in a particular topical area.

Contact information for publishers, including addresses and telephone numbers, is provided in the appendix. Publishers should be contacted directly to ascertain current availability and publication format, as well as cost or access instructions.
